Learning and Teaching in this course

Rationale

This course integrates theoretical and practical knowledge in the study of physical education pedagogy. It will cover dimensions of movement, inclusive practice and the development of skills within contexts that give it meaning and relevance for learners.

Teaching strategies

Sessions will require active participation in learning experiences. Activities will model a range of pedagogical approaches to create positive learning environments and participation will provide opportunities to practise effective instruction and organisation. While recognising that not all primary teachers have the inclination or ability to teach physical education, participation in practical, physical activities is required along with intellectual engagement with content and pedagogy.

Detailed Assessment Description

Compile an e-portfolio recording your beliefs, experiences and resources. Beliefs will include the importance of PDHPE as a KLA. Experiences include in-school observations. These observations are your own but should be supported with appropriate references. Your collection of resources will include strategies for teaching, organising and sequencing PDHPE lessons. This may include descriptions of helpful websites as well as strategies or resources that you have observed, created or used. If you wish to include a full lesson plan, please place it in the appendix. Please submit this task as a single Word or PDF document.

Part 1: Your beliefs

750 words. Write a belief statement in which you reflect on the importance of PDHPE as a KLA, how your experiences of PDHPE in school shaped your beliefs about it as a subject area, and your own personal priorities for teaching PDHPE as a subject. These are your own beliefs but can be supported by appropriate references where applicable.

Part 2: Your experiences

750 words. Describe in detail 3 experiences of teaching and/or observing PDHPE lessons while on your placement. Draw on the research and theory (presented in the articles below) relating to Primary teachers' challenges teaching PDHPE to contextualise/explain your experiences.

Assignment submission Turnitin type

This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students do not see Turnitin similarity reports.

Hurdle rules

A hurdle requirement or hurdle rule is a course requirement that must be fulfilled in order to pass the course. In all courses within the School of Education, all assessments (regardless of their weighting) are hurdle requirements. That is, all assessments in a course must receive a pass mark in order to pass the course. Where a student has failed to meet the requirements of an assessment, they may still be deemed to have met the hurdle requirement if the failure was due to a late penalty and if the overall mark for the course is still greater than 50.

Unit of work

Assessment Overview

Task 2. 3500 words. Students will receive written feedback within two weeks of submission.

Course Learning Outcomes

- CL03 : Design action plans and programs to foster personal responsibility, effective communication and interpersonal skills, resilience, goal setting and lifelong physical activity
- CL04 : Compare differences between skills of stability, loco motor and manipulative control of objects and how these contribute to success in sport
- CL05 : Justify the inclusion of the interrelationship of strands within PDHPE in the school curriculum
- CL06 : Critically analyse theories and research in child and adolescent development and apply to classroom practice and behavioural management.

Detailed Assessment Description

Using the provided template, write a Stage 2 PDHPE program titled 'Safety First', designed to teach to a class of 30 students over 5 weeks. As per NESA guidelines, it must include a weekly PDH lesson in addition to a weekly PE lesson, each being 45 minutes in duration. Select a specific school context and outline information relevant to programming (e.g. 6 stage 2 classes, high EALD population, stage 2 camp in term 3, etc.). You need to include:

- Theory (PDH) and practical (PE) components
- Syllabus outcomes for the relevant stage
- A sequence of activities which demonstrates skill development and understanding of concepts
- Assessment points and tasks for formative and summative assessment
- Strategies for integrating literacy and numeracy development into the curriculum
- Opportunities for engagement with parent and the wider community
- Guest sessions by the other relevant professionals and role models.

Notes:

- You must use the template provided to scaffold your work.

- Select relevant content from the syllabus. Safety incorporates strategies to avoid physical, social and emotional harm.
- Be mindful that Stage 2 has 8 terms; the syllabus content should be spread across all of these so do not crowd the content within this one unit of work.
- Relevant outcomes and content from the syllabus will NOT be included in the word count.
- Submit this task as a single Word or PDF document.

Attendance Requirements

The School of Education has a minimum attendance requirement of 80% for classes, including lectures, tutorials, seminars, and other learning activities – irrespective of delivery mode. The attendance requirement is a minimum threshold for engagement and ensures that programs meet the requirements of external accreditation authorities (i.e., NESAs), and for a range of programs (e.g., initial teacher education programs and other accredited postgraduate coursework specialisations). Students must register their attendance according to the course convenor's directions.

General Schedule Information

This course outline sets out the description of classes at the date the outline is published. The nature of classes may change during the term after the course outline is published. Moodle should be consulted for up-to-date class descriptions. If there is an inconsistency in the description of activities between the University timetable and the course outline (as updated in Moodle), the description in the course outline on Moodle applies.

Other Useful Information

Academic Information

Due to evolving advice by NSW Health, students must check for updated information regarding online learning for all Arts, Design and Architecture courses this term (via Moodle or course information provided).

Please see: <https://www.unsw.edu.au/arts-design-architecture/student-life/resources-support/protocols-guidelines> for essential student information relating to:

- UNSW and Faculty policies and procedures;
- Student Support Services;
- Dean's List;
- review of results;
- credit transfer;
- cross-institutional study and exchange;
- examination information;
- enrolment information;
- Special Consideration in the event of illness or misadventure;
- student equity and disability;

And other essential academic information.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

- Copying: Using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This includes copying materials, ideas or concepts from a book, article, report or other written document, presentation, composition, artwork, design, drawing, circuitry, computer program or software, website, internet, other electronic resource, or another person's assignment without appropriate acknowledgement.

- Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original information, structure and/or progression of ideas of the original without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.
- Collusion: Working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student for the purpose of them plagiarising, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.
- Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.
- Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): Submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

The UNSW Academic Skills support offers resources and individual consultations. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study. One of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items. UNSW Library has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW, but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Use of AI for assessments

As AI applications continue to develop, and technology rapidly progresses around us, we remain committed to our values around academic integrity at UNSW. Where the use of AI tools, such as ChatGPT, has been permitted by your course convener, they must be properly credited and your submissions must be substantially your own work.

In cases where the use of AI has been prohibited, please respect this and be aware that where unauthorised use is detected, penalties will apply.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au

Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin, you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support, you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone, you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, alternative submission details will be stated on your course's Moodle site. For information on how to submit assignments online via Moodle: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/how-submit-assignment-moodle>

Late Submission Penalty

UNSW has a standard late submission penalty of:

- 5% per calendar day,
- for all assessments where a penalty applies,
- capped at five calendar days (120 hours) from the assessment deadline, after which a student cannot submit an assessment, and
- no permitted variation.

Students are expected to manage their time to meet deadlines and to request Special Consideration as early as possible before the deadline. Support with Time Management is available here.
