Course Details & Outcomes

Course Description

MUSC3706 Performance Laboratory C (Music Creative Practice & Music Pedagogy) is the third

Performance Laboratory course for students enrolled in the Music Creative Practice and Music Pedagogy majors of the Bachelor of Music program. It consolidates the milestones achieved in earlier Performance Laboratory courses, further developing the student's technical, creative and interpretive skills. The course also builds on students' awareness of a range of musical genres and practices encountered in other courses in the music program. Students learn to apply critical listening and readings of performance literature and gain further skills and experience in the development of ensemble performances.

Note: This is a 12 UOC course. You will enrol in 4 UOC in each of three successive terms with a result reported by a single grade at the end of the third 4 UOC course.

Course Learning Outcomes

Course Learning Outcomes
CL01 : Apply criticism and analysis of the literature on performance, and of master class presentations, to the preparation of their own performance
CL02 : Formulate artistic objectives and realise them in a range of styles in performance or composition
CL03 : Apply principles of teamwork to music ensemble

Assessment Details

Ensemble contribution, performances, part checking test

Assessment Overview

Direct feedback during rehearsals and workshops and a formal report at the conclusion of the session. Students' contribution to ensemble performances and workshops will be assessed through a part-checking examination. Ensemble part-checking will be undertaken in T1, T2 and T3. Individually or in small groups, students will perform works or excerpts of works, studied and performed during the trimester. Where appropriate, excerpts will be selected by the part-checking examiner.

Course Learning Outcomes

- CLO3 : Apply principles of teamwork to music ensemble

Assessment information

You will participate in one ensemble each term. Part Checking will be held according to the schedule devised by your ensemble directors. The part-checking schedule for Collegium Musicum Choir, Corde, the UNSW Wind Symphony, and the UNSW Wind Symphony will be devised by the Music convenor. Please note that ensemble participation for most ensembles requires participation in a concert that will be scheduled outside normally timetabled classes.

Performance portfolio

Assessment Overview

Two submissions of annotated source material used in performance preparation (bibliography, discography, videography and notes on at least 4 master-classes).

Portfolios will be submitted through Turnitin and feedback via LMS

Course Learning Outcomes

- CL01 : Apply criticism and analysis of the literature on performance, and of master class presentations, to the preparation of their own performance

Assessment Length

At least 500 words per part; no upper word limit

Submission notes

Please see details about this assignment on the Moodle

Assessment information

This task requires you to evaluate your reading, listening, and masterclass attendance, and to reflect on how this applies to your development as a musician this year. You need to attend four masterclasses over the whole year, and documenting these will be integrated into your Portfolio. Part 1 of your Portfolio (T2) must document at least one masterclass, Part 2 (T3) the balance.

Part 1 will be due at 11:59 PM on 9th August. Part 2 will be due at 11:59 PM on 22nd November.

For further details, see the document on Moodle.

Assignment submission Turnitin type

This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Practical examination

Assessment Overview

The examination of performance has two related parts. Instrumental and vocal students will be examined on technical repertoire and sight-reading appropriate to their instrumental or vocal specialisation (9%) during T2. At the end of T3, 25-minutes' of repertoire will be performed in a semi-formal concert environment (21%). Composition students will present a portfolio of work in two submissions; the first at the end of T2; the second at the end of T3.

Feedback: Written report on practical exam and composition portfolio.

Course Learning Outcomes

- CL01 : Apply criticism and analysis of the literature on performance, and of master class presentations, to the preparation of their own performance
- CL02 : Formulate artistic objectives and realise them in a range of styles in performance or composition

Assessment information

For composers, there will be two portfolio submissions: the first on 13th August, the second on 26th November. For further details, refer to the Moodle site.

For performers, the technical repertoire and sight reading will be examined in the week commencing 12th August (Mon–Tues). Further details of repertoire requirements are given on the Moodle site.

Concert repertoire will be examined 25th-26th November.

Performance/presentation

Assessment Overview

Four performance/presentations, including one conducting presentation, will be given during workshop sessions in T1, T2 and T3.

Spoken feedback will be given by the lecturer in class, and written feedback via LMS

Course Learning Outcomes

- CL01 : Apply criticism and analysis of the literature on performance, and of master class presentations, to the preparation of their own performance

Assessment information

All students take a brief conducting exam at the end of T2.

Students will give one small group performance and at least one solo performance in T1; also at least one solo performance in T3. Composition students will give at least one work-in-progress presentation in T1 and one in T3, as well as participate in one group performance in T1 (Composers are expected to participate in the group performance as either composers, performers or both). These performances and presentations will form part of the Studios. Students who are not performing themselves will be expected to contribute to discussion: the Studios also aim to develop the critical skills of those listening.

Groups in T1 are assigned by the lecturer.

General Assessment Information

Please refer to the documents on the conducting exam, the performance task(s), the composition portfolio, and the Performance Portfolio on the Moodle site for this course.

Attendance Requirements

Attendance is required at all weekly rehearsals and/or studios for this course. Students may also be required to attend ensemble concert performances that are scheduled outside the usual rehearsal times. Attendance at fewer than 80% of rehearsals or fewer than 80% of studios may result in penalties such as exclusion from performances and loss of marks.

Course Resources

Recommended Resources

Resources – in the form of material to read, watch and listen to – are posted on Moodle every week after the Studio.

Course Evaluation and Development

Feedback on the course will be made through the myExperience Questionnaire. The content and teaching methods have been shaped partly in response to evaluation of earlier Performance Laboratory Courses at this level. Changes include a smaller class size, enhanced in-class performance opportunities, the planning of informational lectures involving performance issues, a strengthened conducting component, discussions of industry skills. In addition more discursive approach to managing student goals and feedback has been developed. The final exam has been reformatted to allow for a more relaxed, public performance orientation.

Other Useful Information

Academic Information

Due to evolving advice by NSW Health, students must check for updated information regarding online learning for all Arts, Design and Architecture courses this term (via Moodle or course information provided).

Please see: <https://www.unsw.edu.au/arts-design-architecture/student-life/resources-support/protocols-guidelines> for essential student information relating to:

- UNSW and Faculty policies and procedures;
- Student Support Services;
- Dean's List;
- review of results;
- credit transfer;
- cross-institutional study and exchange;
- examination information;
- enrolment information;
- Special Consideration in the event of illness or misadventure;
- student equity and disability;

And other essential academic information.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

- Copying: Using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This includes copying materials, ideas or concepts from a book, article, report or other written document, presentation, composition, artwork, design, drawing, circuitry, computer program or software, website, internet, other electronic resource, or another person's assignment without appropriate acknowledgement.

- Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original information, structure and/or progression of ideas of the original without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.
- Collusion: Working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student for the purpose of them plagiarising, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.
- Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.
- Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): Submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

The UNSW Academic Skills support offers resources and individual consultations. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study. One of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items. UNSW Library has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW, but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Use of AI for assessments

As AI applications continue to develop, and technology rapidly progresses around us, we remain committed to our values around academic integrity at UNSW. Where the use of AI tools, such as ChatGPT, has been permitted by your course convener, they must be properly credited and your submissions must be substantially your own work.

In cases where the use of AI has been prohibited, please respect this and be aware that where unauthorised use is detected, penalties will apply.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au

Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin, you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support, you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone, you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, alternative submission details will be stated on your course's Moodle site. For information on how to submit assignments online via Moodle: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/how-submit-assignment-moodle>

Late Submission Penalty

UNSW has a standard late submission penalty of:

- 5% per calendar day,
- for all assessments where a penalty applies,
- capped at five calendar days (120 hours) from the assessment deadline, after which a student cannot submit an assessment, and
- no permitted variation.

Students are expected to manage their time to meet deadlines and to request Special Consideration as early as possible before the deadline. Support with Time Management is available here.
